CHIROPRACTOR IS BEING SOUGHT IN PEACOCK SLAYING

POLICE CLAIM HE THREATENED PEDIATRICIAN

Accused Physician Of Performing Illegal Operation

Chicago, Jan. 4.—(P)—An intensive hunt for an unnamed chiropractor was pressed tonight by police seeking solution of the savage and mysterious murder of Dr. Silber C. Peacock, 40, brilliant young child specialist.

First Assistant State's Attorney Wilbert Crowley said his investigators had a "good lead" on a man who threatened the pediatrician three months ago and that his apprehension was expected soon.

Summerdale district police described the object of the search as a chiropractor who stormed into Peacock's office and accused him, to the children's physician's amazement, of performing an illegal operation.

The desire of authorities to shield their moves to overtake the slayer resulted in only a perfunctory hearing before an inquest in the slaying was adjourned until Jan. 21 at the prompting of the prosecutor's office.

Summerdale police, however, received the formal report of coroner's office.

Summerdale police, however, received the formal report of coroner's physicians which emphasized the enraged brutality of the doctor's assailant. It asserted that the slayer, who lured Peacock from his home Thursday night on the pretext he was wanted to treat the child, did not want to be shot, but was fatally through the forehead, but evidently had attempted to scalp the victim, also. Nine knife wounds completely encircling the head were found. Police Capt. Martin McCormack stated.

Most Honest Man Has Been Found In Windy City

Chicago, Jan. 4.—(P)—The most honest man?

He lives in Chicago, said City Clerk Peter J. Brady today and his name is E. F. Grunwald.

Although it's time for 1936 plates, Grunwald sent in $5 for a new useless 1935 motor license for a car bought Oct. 12 with this comment:

HEATED ROW OVER RELIEF PREDICTED

Problem Of Feeding Poor Will Be Considered

By Curtis R. Hay
Associated Press Staff Writer

Springfield, Ill., Jan. 4.—(P)—With the executive branch of the state government already embroiled in a bitter relief battle, the legislature today opened its session with a heated row over the problem of feeding the state's poor.

Indications were that social security bills on both houses' calendars, primary measures of the special session, would be obscured behind the problem of feeding the state's poor.

There is nothing in the governor's call for the session which, according to informal opinions of members of the attorney general's staff, could be construed as granting authority for the assembly to pass relief legislation without a new call by Mr. Horner, even without this authority for definite action, however, it was believed that in pending bills there was opportunity for the members to deliver relief speeches.

Since the recess began Dec. 18, relief and political developments have been rapid and provided plenty of material for legislative oratory.

Today, State Treasurer John Steele reported the state began the new year with $17,870,142 in the general revenue fund. He and Republican members of the house contended this money should be used to feed the poor.

In the fact that the cash on hand jumped $15,600,000 since a $9,000,000 relief appropriation last January was seen opportunity for the Republicans to reiterate their demand.

Governor Horner, central figure in the relief controversy, said the money was earmarked for building purposes, and the cities and counties would have to take over the relief burden if he later appeal to President Roosevelt for federal funds was denied. This would mean considerably larger expenditures in Cook county, a natural point of controversy with the Chicago delegation in the assembly.

It may be also, that new material will be provided before the session reopens Tuesday. Members of the Illinois Emergency Relief Commission were asked by telegrams today to meet in Chicago Monday.

FIELD HOSPITAL IN ETHIOPIA IS STRUCK BY BOMB

No Casualties Are Reported In The Message

By Albert Wilson.
Addis Ababa, Jan. 4.—(P)—Fascist fliers showered bombs over wide areas of Ethiopia today and an American field hospital was reported to have been among the victims of the aerial assault.

Dr. T. A. Lambie, head of the Red Cross in Ethiopia, said he was informed in a message from Daggah Bur that southern point, including the field hospital, had been bombed. No details were given.

The fact that no casualties were mentioned led to belief here that occupants of the hospital, including foreigners, escaped.

An Ethiopian communiqué also announced the bombing by six Italian planes. The government denied a rumor that Harar, Ethiopia's second largest city, was being bombarded from the air.

The Italian pilots had a busy day elsewhere. A Rome dispatch yesterday said activity would be redoubled because of anger over the alleged decapitation of an Italian pilot captured by Ethiopian warriors.

A Swedish Red Cross worker wounded last Monday when a Red Cross unit at Dolo was bombed died the next day and 28 Ethiopians, being treated for wounds, were killed in the raid. The horrors of the attack were described by a surviving physician who said wounded men were blown from their beds.

Ten Ethiopians were killed and 15 wounded, a communiqué said, when the European invaders dropped 3,000 bombs on the northern front in the sector south of Makale today.

Ethiopia's first major counter-offensive, with 400,000 troops, is now underway in that area.

An unconfirmed report to the correspondent here of the Reuters (British) News Agency said an Egyptian Red Crescent (Red Cross) ambulance was bombed at Daggah Bur.

The American hospital at Daggah Bur had been directed by Dr. Robert W. Hockman, American missionary, until he was killed Dec. 13 when he picked up an unexploded Italian bomb.

The Swedish victim of Monday's bombing was Gunner Lundstrom, a male nurse. His jaw was torn away and he died the day after the bombing. This report was brought back by a Swedish Red Cross representative, Dr. Harner, who made an airplane flight to investigate the attack.

NATION'S DEATH RATE UNCHANGED REPORTS SHOW

86 Cities Make Their Returns To Commerce Department

Washington, Jan. 4.—(P)—The nation's death rate from all causes as indicated today in reports from 86 cities to the commerce department, remained unchanged in 1935 as compared with 1934.

The rate in both years was 11.4 per thousand of population for 86 as a whole, but there were substantial fluctuations in the individual cities. Total deaths in 1935 was 424,969, against 423,995 in 1934.

The lowest rate in 1935 was 7.4 in Yonkers, N. Y., although Queensboro, part of New York City, and itself as large as many cities, showed a rate of only 6.4. Other cities around these figures were Detroit with 7.6 and Flint, Mich., with 7.8.

The highest 1935 rate was in the negro population of Washington, D. C., where 23.5 per thousand died. Other similarly high rates were found in negro populations of New Orleans with 22.9, Richmond, Va., and Nashville, Tenn., with 22.4 each.

The highest 1934 rate where negro and white figures were not separated was 15.9 in Manhattan borough of New York City, and 15.3 in Albany, N. Y., and Cincinnati.

The lowest 1934 rate was 7.5 in Detroit, except again for Queensboro, where the rate was 6.5. The highest 1934 rate was again in the negro population of Washington, D. C., where 23 per thousand died. The highest rate where negro and white figures were not separated was 16.2 in Wilmington, Del.

In Chicago the 1935 death rate per 1000 was 9.9 compared to 10.1 in 1934. In Peoria, the only other Illinois city tabulated, the 1935 rate was 12.4 compared with 11.8 the previous year.

J. Gibson Gates Dies From Carbon Monoxide Fumes

Doors Of Garage Blow Shut After Young Man Starts His Automobile

Bryn Mawr, Pa., Jan. 4.—(P)—Jey Gibson Gates, 25-year-old son of Thomas S. Gates, president of the University of Pennsylvania, was accidentally killed tonight by carbon monoxide fumes in the garage at the rear of his fashionable suburban home.

Lower Merion township police announced after an investigation that death was accidental and that Gates probably died when the doors of the garage blew shut after he started his car to go for the evening newspapers.

The body was discovered by Mrs. Gates, the former Phyllis C. Leuders of nearby Wynnewood, on her return from a visit to friends.

Receiving no answer to her call, she went to the garage to see if her husband's car was out. His body lay at the rear of the garage. Both doors were closed and the engine of the machine was still running.

Lieutenant George Vandevour of Lower Merion police said Gates had spent the afternoon alone in his house. He probably was on his way for the evening papers, as was his custom, when he was killed, Vandevour said.

Library officials described her work as of "exceptional character," and despite her advanced age she was exempted from provisions of the federal retirement act.

Miss Skinner was born in Princeton July 15, 1859. After study in Zurich, Heidelberg and Paris, she organized the library of the University of West Virginia. She joined the library of Congress staff in 1902.

Surviving her is a nephew, John L. Skinner, of Princeton.

La Guardia Has Traffic Lights

New York, Jan. 4.—(P)—Mayor F. H. La Guardia has had traffic lights installed for his visitors.

When someone comes in who intrigues his interest, the mayor presses a button that flashes a red light on the desk of his secretary, out in the ante-room. That means the mayor will be engaged for some time and is not to be disturbed.

When a white light flashes, the secretary knows his chief is only mildly interested in the caller and he will be emerging soon. A green light means the visitor will be coming out even sooner.

There is only one hitch. Sometimes the mayor gets temperamental and bangs on his desk, hitting all three buttons at once.

JUDGE ORDERS BANK TO GIVE UP RECORDS

Government Desired Information In The Mellon Case

Pittsburgh, Jan. 4.—(P)—Federal Judge Robert E. Gibson today ordered the Union Trust company to give up most of the records sought by the government for prosecution of its claim that Andrew W. Mellon owes more than $3,000,000 in income taxes and penalties for the year 1931.

The decision cleared the way for resumption of the financier's long-drawn out hearing before the board of tax appeals, probably in February.

Robert H. Jackson, government counsel, contended the records dealt with transactions by which he charged Mellon evaded taxes. Mellon's counsel had refused to honor subpoenas, holding such a step would constitute unconstitutional search and seizure.

Judge Gibson ordered the bank to produce records of 17 of the 18 demands set forth by the government so the board may rule upon their admissibility as evidence. He refused the petition for the 18th—a blanket demand for the production of the minutes of the Union Trust company for the years 1931 and 1932.

On this last point, Judge Gibson wrote:

"Lacking specification as to what the paragraph is violative of the rights of the Union Trust company under the fourth amendment and the production of the records demanded by it will not be ordered."

Judge Gibson said of 11 of the other demands:

"A stretch of the imagination is required to induce a belief that the various papers mentioned in this paragraph may become evidence in the case. Nevertheless, the subpoena demands the production of specific records and it is not beyond the realm of possibility that other supporting evidence might render them admissible."

"This being so, the production not appearing necessarily to be a violation of the constitutional rights of the Trust company, the question of admissibility must be left to the Board of Tax Appeals."

Squirrel Causes Plenty of Trouble in Cleveland, O.

Cleveland, Jan. 4.—(P)—A Cleveland Heights housewife called police today complaining there was a squirrel in her cellar. She said the house was getting cold and she couldn't go into the basement.

In the confusion that followed, these events stand out in the memories of Sergeant Gerald Hutchins and Patrolman Donald Andrews and Harry Kennedy.

They made a dozen laps of the cellar and knocked down two hot-air furnace pipes, finally capturing the squirrel. Andrews wanted the squirrel for his daughter so they drove to his home; the squirrel escaped in the Andrews home and Bill Kendall on the thumb; the police made several laps of the Andrews living room; the squirrel upset the canary cage, releasing the canary; the Andrews cat made short work of the canary; the squirrel ran out the front door and up a tree trunk.

Prisoners Had Been Given Christmas Paroles By Governor

Montgomery, Ala., Jan. 4.—(P)—Hamp Draper, chief of the Alabama convict department, said today that a check showed five convicts among 500 who were granted Christmas paroles were still missing, but prison wardens expressed belief the men would return in time to be listed as "present" on their official reports Monday.

Two brothers—Dee and Roe Brown, middle aged Lauderdale county convicts—were the only prisoners of 100 who had not returned to Kilby prison here, but Warden Frank Boswell's faith in them had not been shaken.

"Their home is across the line in Tennessee, and you know we've been having mighty bad weather," Boswell said. "I believe they'll live up to their man-to-man agreement to return."

One of the men limps, and Boswell pointed out they might be walking back.

Officials at Speigner prison had the same faith in their three missing men, two white men and a negro.

PRESIDENT SAYS FULL RESPONSIBILITY MUST BE ASSUMED BY STATE

WOULD DRIVE POVERTY, WANT FROM AMERICA

Joseph Fifer Says U. S. Is Fair Land Of Plenty

Bloomington, Ill., Jan. 4.—(P)—Joseph W. Fifer, former governor of Illinois and now past 95 years of age, has hopes that "the affairs of our country will be so conducted that poverty and want will be driven from this fair land of plenty."

The former governor, still active for his years, saw service with the union armies during the Civil war, thereby earning the nickname "Private Joe." Despite his military service, however, he expressed a hope that international disputes now raging would be settled by peaceful arbitration.

Fifer's last public appearance was early in December, when he addressed a meeting on his favorite topic—Lincoln. As a boy in Danville he had met the martyred president several times, and heard his speech here in September of 1858, during his campaign for the United States senate in which he opposed Stephen Douglas.

"Lincoln's everlasting fame," the former governor said, "must rest on the fact that he saved the union. It has been said Lincoln was not in sympathy with liberating the slaves. There was never a greater mistake. But when the legislature passed a bill to make it a criminal act to bring free negroes into the state he opposed it, and his protest is on the records of the state."

"When the war began, the abolitionists wanted the emancipation proclamation at once. This he denied, saying a war to liberate negroes was unconstitutional, since slavery was recognized in the constitution. General Fremont, commanding the department of Missouri, freed the slaves in that state. Lincoln revoked the order."

"The border states of Delaware, Kentucky, Maryland and Missouri believed in slavery. If Lincoln had followed others' advice, these four would have been lost to the union. As it was, they furnished 250,000 men in the union armies. If these four states had gone out, the south would have succeeded."

HAUPTMANN WILL NOT SEE SON IN STATE PRISON

Condemned Man Shows No Signs Of Being Nervous

Trenton, N. J., Jan. 4.—(P)—Bruno Richard Hauptmann resolved today never to see his 26-months-old son, Manfred in the death house at state prison.

Only nine days before the week of January 13—the week set for him to die—Hauptmann showed no signs of breaking or nervousness, and told his wife, Anna, and his guards he felt certain he would not go to the chair.

He told Mrs. Hauptmann also he would not take advantage of a prison regulation permitting a condemned man to see his children once during the last week.

"I don't belong in here," he told her. "I want to see my child in here."

Hauptmann last saw the boy while awaiting trial at Flemington for the kidnap-murder of the Lindbergh baby.

Mrs. Hauptmann again denied reports she had booked passage for herself and son to leave the country.

Date for the court of pardons meeting to consider Hauptmann's appeal for clemency was still unsettled and Governor Harold G. Hoffman's office let it be known it would not be announced over the week end.

Members of the court were told at their meeting Monday to keep Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday of next week open for possible call. The court of errors and appeals, of which seven of the pardons court are members, will meet Thursday and Friday.

It was learned today that Dr. John F. (Jassie) Condon, the Lindbergh ransom intermediary, who has been making appearances in New Jersey theaters the past week, has been requested by Attorney General David T. Wilentz, Hauptmann's prosecutor, not to appear in Perth Amboy, Wilentz's home town.

Chicago, Jan. 4.—(P)—A warrant charging Ralph T. Crean, 41, cashier in the office of Circuit Court Clerk John E. Conroy, with embezzling $10,876.72 was issued today by Municipal Court Judge Frank M. Padden.

Crean handled all fees in the office since Conroy took it over in December, 1932. Crean's wife told police he had been missing since Thursday.

Says Unemployed Will Decrease

Chicago, Jan. 4.—(P)—Martin P. Durkin, Illinois director of labor, estimated today that the number of persons unemployed during 1936 will decrease approximately 16.0 per cent or from 661,393 in November, 1935, to 555,620 in November, 1936.

Durkin said that in making the estimates, he assumed that non-agricultural employment in Illinois during 1936 would change at approximately the same rate as during 1935.

The labor director asserted the improvement in the 1936 labor situation would still leave the state about 20 index points below the 1935-27 employment level, or employment would still have to increase about 25 per cent to reach the 1925-1927 level.

The most encouraging factor in the employment picture, Durkin said, was the definite and unmistakable advance in activity exhibited in the heavy industries during the last year.

HORNER QUICKLY FILES A REPLY TO ROOSEVELT

Renews His Request For $2,500,000 January Grant

Springfield, Jan. 4.—(P)—Governor Horner today received a letter from President Roosevelt refusing further federal relief grants to Illinois, but advising him that a 25,000 person increase had been made in the state WPA quota.

The governor immediately filed a reply to the president. The telegram's contents were not disclosed, but it was unofficially reported that he had renewed the state's request for a loan or grant of $2,500,000 for January.

"No further federal relief grants can be made to any state," Mr. Roosevelt wrote the governor, "and full responsibility for direct relief must be assumed by the states and localities."

"There are at the present time approximately 200,000 persons in the state of Illinois employed by the federal government on its work program, and we have recently increased this by 25,000 which will be put to work in the next few days. It is our position that this represents the federal government's fair share of unemployment assistance in Illinois and that the state of Illinois should be amply able to take care of any remaining need."

Governor Horner said, however, that the WPA job figures in the president's letter did not agree with those given him by the Illinois Emergency Relief Commission.

"The president says 200,000 persons have already been provided WPA employment," Mr. Horner said. "The Illinois Emergency Relief Commission reports slightly less than 100,000 of its relief clients have been removed, and that of these 35,000 will need supplemental relief."

"I am at a loss to account for this discrepancy in the president's figures and those of the commission. The commission will confer on Tuesday in Chicago with WPA officials."

If a total of 235,000 persons are taken from the IERC rolls, Mr. Horner said, the state will still have 105,000 persons left to care for. Of these, 40,000 would be employable clients. Of the remaining 65,000 many would be provided for by the pending social security program, he said.

"I do not know what course of procedure the state will follow in bandaging relief if we do not get federal aid, but I presume new legislation will be required to return the care to local authorities," the governor said.

"I have not yet conferred with the attorney general to determine exactly what legislation will be needed."

The governor made two requests of the president for a federal grant or an additional 65,000 WPA jobs. He conferred at the White House with Mr. Roosevelt on Dec. 23 and followed that discussion with a telegram on Dec. 28.

"I asked the president to give us 65,000 more WPA jobs when I conferred with him December 23," Mr. Horner said. "At the time I told him that if granted our request for the additional jobs we could care for the unemployed ourselves."

"As far as I know the 25,000 additional WPA jobs referred to by the president in his letter are in addition to the state's original quota, but I do not regard them as a concession to the state."

The governor was supplemented in his request by a plea made by Senator Lewis last Thursday to Harry L. Hopkins, federal relief administrator from Washington, was for either a loan or a grant of $10,000,000 to carry the state through the next four months. The plea was refused.

Governor Horner's telegram tonight to the president was not disclosed, but a clue to its contents were seen in his statement. He said:

"I deem it unfair of the federal government to lop off relief entirely on the first of January. Many of the new WPA employees will not get their first pay checks for three weeks."

This led to an unofficial report that he had asked for at least one month's aid.

"I must say that the president's letter does not encourage me but I have not abandoned hope entirely that the federal government will not lend further assistance," Mr. Horner added.

Among the White Hall business visitors in Jacksonville Saturday was Jeff Burros.

Otis F. Glenn Former U. S. Republican Senator Enters Primary Race For Senate

Chicago, Jan. 4.—(P)—Otis F. Glenn, former Republican United States senator, announced today he would be a candidate for the Senate at the April primary.

In a brief telephonic communication, Glenn said "I intend to be a candidate for the United States Senate. No further comment is needed at present."

This announcement, while not unexpected in political circles, ended months of uncertainty as to whether Glenn would again seek a Senate seat, from which he was ousted in 1932 by William H. Dieterich, Beardstown Democrat, or campaign for the Republican nomination for governor. This was the second senatorial candidacy among Republicans to be announced. Oscar Carlstrom, Geneva, former state auditor, tossed his hat into the ring two weeks ago. On the Democratic side Senator J. Hamilton Lewis has said he intends to seek re-nomination and re-election.

Glenn, who maintains his legal residence in Murphysboro, has practiced law in Chicago since his term-to which he was elected to fill the vacancy caused by the Senate's refusal to seat Frank L. Smith.

Glenn was born in 1887 at Mattoon. Graduated from the University of Illinois Law School in 1900, he served two terms as state's attorney of Jackson county, and was state senator from the 44th District in 1920.

Organ Grinders Gone

New York City's picturesque organ grinders are no more. An order from Mayor LaGuardia refusing to renew their licenses put them out of business Jan. 1. Now the sounds of the hurdy-gurdy bring the tops on the jump. Children no longer throw their coins in the cup or where the monkey can get them.

Some people thought the organ grinding was a nuisance and were glad to see the strolling music-makers run off the streets. Others thought their presence added color to the city and cannot understand why they should have been banished.

Fact is, this hurrying age no longer has time to stop and listen to street musicians. Those who do stop must seek places of safety if they expect to avoid being knocked down. A crowd collected around an organ grinder interferes with traffic.

Maybe the music was not so good, but it was familiar to the people and usually brought smiles. The men who trudged about grinding out the silly tunes were satisfied with that way of earning a living. Now they must seek other means of livelihood and in fields unfamiliar and crowded. Many of them will doubtless find places on the relief rolls.

A Journey Explained

From obscure Llandaff, Wales, comes the explanation of the flight of Col. Lindbergh and his family from the United States. His relatives there have given out the information that the famous couple will remain away from our shores about three months, or until after the Hauptmann cases is settled and the publicity fades out.

In absents themselves during the disposition of Hauptmann, the Lindberghs showed good taste. By visiting in out-of-the-way places in the Old World, they will avoid the limelight for a time. Perhaps too much fuss has been made over their trip, inasmuch as it appears now to have no other object than the avoidance of publicity.

One news hawk has criticized Col. Lindbergh on the ground that he should have given the press a frank explanation of his trip, which would have set at rest all rumors. The secrecy of the departure only served to whet public curiosity. But now the facts are known, and the noted family should be left in peace.

War is Like That

Reports have come that an American hospital unit in Ethiopia has been the target for Italian bombs. Recently a Swedish Red Cross unit suffered a similar fate. These hospitals are, of course, near the front and are victims of modern warfare. They fare no better in an air attack than do cathedrals, schools, business houses or non-combatants in the civilian population. The Swedish people have demonstrated their anger against Italy, but the answer to such indignation is simple enough. What else could they expect to happen to forces in active service at the front? Even doctors and nurses who go into war service must expect to meet the hazards of military activity, and especially so since attacks from the air are now the rule.

Behind The Scenes In Washington

New Low Cost Housing Idea to Be Pushed in Congress . . . PWA Effort Has Been Marked by Setbacks, Reversals, and Fund Cuts . . . Some Progress Is Made Despite Handicaps.

By RODNEY DUTCHER
(Journal-Courier Washington Correspondent)

Washington.—Senator Bob Wagner of New York, aided by Congressman Henry Ellenbogen in the House, will make real noise at the coming session of Congress for a large scale federal housing subsidy program aimed at providing "decent minimum standards" of shelter for low income groups at low rentals.

On the other hand, there will be some effort to take the government out of the housing construction field entirely and reduce still further the $100,000,000 which Secretary Ickes finally received from the four billion dollar work relief fund for his PWA Housing Division.

Since the background of the New Deal's experiments in housing is familiar only to a small group of housing experts and has been confused to others by a succession of mishaps, blunders, reversals of decision, retreats, and unavoidable difficulties, it may be well to sketch the career of the PWA housing effort—largest of the federal housing construction programs.

You are reminded that housing programs heretofore have emphasized the aims of providing employment and stimulating industries rather than the Wagner-Allenbogen idea of low-cost housing as a public function.

Established in 1933
The PWA Housing Division was established in July, 1933, and assigned $125,000,000 for slum clearance and low-cost housing. To ameliorate a myriad of procedural difficulties, a federal housing corporation was created in November with an allotment of $100,000,000.

The attorney general approved the corporation, but Comptroller General McCarl held it couldn't spend any money and the funds were impounded until the Housing Division got them back in June, 1934.

Meanwhile, the division studied hundreds of applications for long term, low interest loans to limited dividend corporations.

Few of these projects could meet requirements for low rent, good planning, and slum clearance and many were being pushed by shady promoters. In the end only seven such projects were approved and completed.

Policy Is Changed

Then there was thorough reorganization of the division and a new policy was adopted—development of large urban projects sponsored by local or semi-public bodies, built and financed by the federal government.

The division was proceeding with plans and commitments totaling $144,000,000—allocated for projects by the Public Works Board—when late in December, 1934, President Roosevelt suddenly took away $110,000,000 from it to finance direct relief.

That left only $34,000,000 to carry out the program, which of course had to be drastically curtailed.

THRIFTY HOUSE-KEEPERS should not miss seeing Page 87 in Saturday Evening Post, January 11th issue.

'BARKIS IS WILLIN'

But by this time it was commonly known that Roosevelt would ask for a huge work-relief fund and both the division and the sponsors of delayed projects figured Congress would appropriate more than enough to take care of the rest. Then, however, came another period of doubt and delay.

Court Halts Work
Last April Congress passed the big work-relief act and ear-marked $450,000,000 for urban housing, with permission for the president to add to that sum.

But meanwhile the Federal District Court at Louisville had ruled the government couldn't acquire housing sites by exercising power of eminent domain and in July, just as PWA had finally been allotted money from that $450,000,000 for housing, the circuit court of appeals sustained the decision.

That necessitated changes in many projects requiring condemnation and local sponsors were badly mixed up all over again.

Little actual construction had been begun by fall. Ickes and Harry Hopkins had been having their famous battle and Hopkins had won. The Housing Division had submitted a table of 144 projects totaling $381,000,000 and announced that it owned or had optioned the sites for 95 of the projects.

Hit by New Setback

But Roosevelt, seeking to withdraw funds from projects which couldn't be completed in 1936, cut the PWA program to 37 projects involving only $100,000,000. More than 100 projects were promptly suspended, of which a few were subsequently reinstated.

The way it stands now is that the Housing Division program has spent or is spending $140,800,000 for about 50 public projects and for seven limited dividend projects already completed.

Of the public projects, all have actually started construction or have let some contracts. The first one is expected to be opened for occupancy in Atlanta in February or March. Few of the projects are expected to offer rents possible for the really low income groups.

The Wagner and Ellenbogen plans would make the radical innovation of local sponsorship, construction, and operation of housing projects, with federal subsidy to pay deficits in construction, operation, or both.

Stolen Peoria Car Found in This City

Police Find Ownership of Machine Abandoned on N. Fayette Street

Jacksonville police yesterday were informed that the Chevrolet sedan found abandoned here Dec. 31 was stolen in Peoria on the night of Dec. 30. On the same night of the Peoria theft, a 1934 Chevrolet sedan belonging to Miss Frances Brennan was stolen in this city, and has not been recovered.

Supt. of Police Fred W. Nussbaum notified the local department that the car found here on North Fayette street is the property of Miss Marjorie McPadden, 1007 North Perry street. It disappeared from near the offices of the Caterpillar Tractor Company. The identification was established by a description and motor number sent out by the Jacksonville officers.

Miss McPadden was notified and is expected to come to Jacksonville to claim her property.

Police believe there was relation between the theft of the two automobiles, and Peoria police have been asked to make a search for the Brennan machine.

B. F. Thady of near Murrayville was among those transacting business in the city yesterday.

The Jacksonville Journal
Jacksonville, Illinois
Dear Sir:

The growing interest in the proposed municipal power plant is a good sign. It is important that the proposal be thoroughly discussed and that the citizens realize fully what it would mean to Jacksonville if the bond issue carried at the election on January 21.

My contribution to the discussion is this: In the bond issue election the citizens will be obliged to choose between the power project and the waterworks project. If they vote for the bond issue, they will be voting against the waterworks project. Further consideration of the waterworks project has been postponed until after the election and then it will receive consideration only in case the bond issue fails to carry. I give this information on the highest authority at Washington. I wish it were otherwise, and if any one can persuade the authorities to change their minds before January 21, I for one would be most happy.

But I can think of nothing more tragic for Jacksonville just now than to lose the waterworks project. If the citizens do not realize the need for it, it is because they do not know the wretched condition of the present pumping and filtration plant and have forgotten the water famine of a few years ago when for at least six months there was practically no water in the reservoir.

While I am interested in securing lower electricity rates, I do not hesitate for a moment to choose the waterworks project in preference to the power project, and I am certain that the majority of our citizens will make the same choice.

Pure water and plenty of it is the greatest physical need of Jacksonville at the present time. Lower electricity rates are desirable, but they cannot be guaranteed by a municipally operated power plant in a city as small as Jacksonville in competition with a corporation as large, as efficient, and as resourceful as the Illinois Power and Light Company.

How can our colleges, our state institutions, and our Hospital for the insane, which, after all, are our chief industries, how indeed, can our city itself continue to grow without an adequate supply of water properly treated and distributed? Why should we throw away our chance of setting a rehabilitated water plant and a new reservoir for the hope of a possible but doubtful reduction of our electricity rates?

Yours sincerely,
Clarence P. McClelland

Editor Forum:

Every question of public interest and policy should have the broadest discussion of all related facts. Having an interest in the campaign for a Municipal Light Plant and knowing Independence, Mo., has successfully operated Municipal Plant, I wrote Frank W. Rucker, a former resident of this city and formerly connected with The Journal for a statement relative to the same. Mr. Rucker is one of the owners of The Examiner and has many friends in Jacksonville who will be pleased to read his reply to my inquiry. His letter dated Dec. 23, 1935 in part is as follows:

"This is in reply to your letter of Dec. 17 asking for information regarding our municipal light plant. This I am glad to give for old times' sake as well as for the fact that we think we have one of the outstanding modern light plants for a city of more than 15,000 people.

"Our plant is now valued at $1,250,000. It has been modernized in buildings, machinery, equipment and lines in a carefully planned improvement program dating back to 1925. This modernization program has cost the city nearly $300,000 WHICH HAS BEEN REALIZED WITHOUT A SINGLE BOND ISSUE. The entire cost of these improvements was borne by the EARNINGS OF THE PLANT

STOCKMEN OUT TO MAKE MOST OF 1936 FARMING PROSPECT

Urbana, Ill.—Farmers throughout Illinois are out to cash in on the fact that livestock prices are expected to remain high in relation to grain prices at least until new crops are available. It is reported by E. T. Robbins, livestock extension specialist of the College of Agriculture, University of Illinois.

Already 2,402 farmers in 58 counties have signed up to get the latest information on approved livestock management through the college's extension service project. These stockmen and other farmers have just attended county livestock management schools held by the college and farm advisers. Back home on their own farms they not only will practice methods explained at the schools but also will lead community discussions on improved livestock management as opportunity presents itself during the winter months.

Although Illinois farmers now get more than two-thirds of their several hundred million dollar cash income from livestock and livestock products co-operators in the livestock management project realize that stock of some farms could be much better handled, Robbins said. For one thing some adjustments can be made to fit the livestock program more closely into the general farm management scheme so as to make the whole enterprise more satisfactory under present economic conditions, he explained.

Methods such as will be advocated in the livestock management project have been shown by farm management records to be worth as much as $1,000 a year extra income for the best Illinois farmers. Farm accounts show that the most successful farmers excel other stockmen because they start with better animals, keep their stock healthier, market their animals in better condition, sell on higher markets, make more use of legumes for pasture and for hay and combine home-grown feeds into better ration without using much other feed.

LARGE WOLF KILLED BY FARMER IN CASS COUNTY THIS WEEK

Farmers in the vicinity of Beardstown and Virginia have reported the loss of many chickens, ducks and geese this winter, and it is reported that the wolves have preyed on rabbits and other game in the vicinity. Farmers say the wolves have not attacked their other stock.

WHAT ABOUT THE COST OF ELECTRIC SERVICE IN THE STORES AND SHOPS?

THIS CHART SHOWS HOW THE USE OF ELECTRIC LIGHTING HAS INCREASED IN KEEPING WITH BETTER MERCHANDISING AND MANUFACTURING.

LIGHTS ONCE SWUNG FROM CORDS

• The desire of the store or shop owner to give his customers the best in lighting, comfort and convenience while shopping has led to greatly increased demands for electric service.

• A few years ago, a few scattered lights swinging on cords suspended from the ceiling would suffice, but not today.

Today, your stores are brilliantly lighted from beautiful fixtures, artistically arranged. Ventilating systems and electric fans cool the shopper on the summer days. Electricity operates many labor saving devices in the store and shop, adding to the comfort and convenience of both customer and shopkeeper.

THESE COMFORTING CHANGES HAVE BROUGHT ABOUT THE STORY TOLD IN THE CHART

• Today the total of kilowatt hours used by the stores, shops and offices of Jacksonville is more than twice that used in 1926—nearly nine years ago.

• This great increase in the use of electric service was made possible by the steadily decreasing electric light rates.

• And so it is that these commercial customers in Jacksonville are today using twice as much electricity and paying a total of only one sixth more dollars than as of January 1, 1927.

• In other words, the amount of electricity which the average customer then bought for one dollar now costs him little more than fifty cents.

• And the best part of it is there are two rate reductions scheduled for 1936.

• The more electricity the Company sells the cheaper it can sell it.

Income Tax Blanks Have Been Issued

Time For Filing Returns Ends at Midnight on March Sixteenth

The Collector of Internal Revenue announced yesterday that income tax returns for the calendar year 1935 were released to the public on January 4, 1936. The period for filing returns for the year 1935 began on January 1st and ends at midnight of March 16th, 1936. Ordinarily, the time within which to file calendar year returns ends at midnight on March 15th, but as that day falls on Sunday in 1936, the taxpayers may file returns until midnight March 16th.

All income tax returns should be prepared on the regular blanks as usual, and the duplicate on the green blank, and both returns filed with the Collector of Internal Revenue on or before March 16, 1936.

As the blanks are available so early in the filing period, taxpayers have an opportunity to prepare and file their returns at an early date and should not wait until the close of the filing period. Since income tax blanks have been mailed to all taxpayers of record, it is not expected that many additional forms will be required, but all requests should be directed to the Collector's office at Springfield, Illinois, and should state definitely what kind of blanks are desired and the quantity limited to the number necessary.

The Collector again suggests that care be exercised in the preparation and filing of income tax returns in the interests of both the taxpayer and the government officials required to handle this large volume of work.

Alexander callers in the local community yesterday included Clifford Hess.

Elmer Ellison of Naples was a Saturday business visitor in the city.

Make Left-Over Egg Yolks Into Noodles

By MARY E. DAGUE

NEA Service Staff Writer

Did you ever make noodles? You can—and the family will love them. Besides they will use up left-over egg yolks.

Since it takes but little more time to make enough noodles for several meals, add one or two whole eggs to the yolks to increase the quantity and quality. You need one tablespoon water for each egg yolk.

Noodle soup is a good winter luncheon dish and noodles cut in tiny straw-like lengths add much to the cup of dinner consommé or bouillon. When served in the clear dinner soup noodles should be boiled in salted water and drained before adding to the prepared meat stock.

For parties, try a noodle ring filled with creamed meat or fish or a platter of fried noodles garnished with halves of hard cooked eggs and served with a smooth cream sauce.

Noodles

Three egg yolks, 1 whole egg, 3 tablespoons water, 12 teaspoons salt, 2-3 cups flour.

Beat yolks of eggs, water and whole egg until thoroughly blended. Add salt and enough sifted flour to make a very stiff dough. Knead well on a lightly floured molding board. Divide into six parts and roll each part as thin as possible. Cover with a clean towel and let stand for thirty minutes. Roll each sheet separately like a jelly roll and cut in very thin slices. Shake "Bitocks" are patties of chopped veal. Fried and served with a paprika sauce, they are a fine complement for a dinner featuring noodles as the starch dish.

out slices and toss lightly on board strips it can be cut in two-inch squares and used to make noodle balls. This is a good way to use up left-over meat or the meat from the soup bone. Carefully trim off fat and gristle and chop meat very fine. Season well with salt and pepper and parsley or onion finely minced. Add one unbeaten egg and mix well. Add milk if necessary to make moist enough to stick together. Fill squares of noodle dough with prepared meat

When wanted cook 20 minutes in boiling meat broth or salted water. In calculating quantities it is worth keeping in mind that one egg or its equivalent of one egg yolk and one tablespoon water will make enough noodles to serve four persons with a generous amount of noodle soup.

Instead of cutting the dough into

MONDAY'S MENU

BREAKFAST: Halves of grape fruit, cereal, cream, crisp bacon, cornmeal muffins, milk, coffee.

LUNCHEON: Buckwheat cakes, sausage, apple sauce, molasses cookies, milk, tea.

DINNER: Consomme bitocks, boiled noodles, spinach with lemon butter, minted carrots, cabbage and raisin salad, date pie, milk, coffee.

mixture and draw together. Dampen edges with a little cold water and press firmly together. Drop into boiling salted water or meat broth and boil 20 minutes. Serve on a hot platter and garnish with parsley.

To prepare noodles for chow mein, sprinkle two tablespoons salad oil over one pound noodles and steam fifteen minutes, lifting noodles carefully with a fork in order to separate well. Spread on molding board and let cool. Then fry until crisp and a golden brown in deep hot fat or oil. Drain thoroughly and use.

Meat with a well seasoned sauce or gravy is best with noodles. Patties of chopped veal known as "Bitocks" served with paprika sauce are delicious. Pan-broil the patties and make a sauce in the pan, seasoning it well with sweet Spanish paprika and use tomato juice in place of water in the sauce.

PRISONER GETS AWAY FROM ALABAMA DOGS

Montgomery, Ala.—(AP)—State dog warden Leon Debardeleben wanted to limber up his bloodhounds so he "borrowed" trusty Delmar Wilson from a county prison camp.

Wilson agreed to be "it" in a game of tag with the dogs but before the bounds could be put on the trail, a heavy rain washed out the convict's tracks. Wilson hasn't been seen since.

Will REDUCE Electric Rates

Government grant, low interest rates, competition, elimination of watered stock, holding company demands and other excessive charges insure
LOW RATES

A municipal light and power plant as proposed for Jacksonville will insure substantial reduction of electric rates.

These reductions will give a rate much lower than those in effect or so far PROMISED BY THE PRIVATE POWER COMPANY.

WHY LOWER RATES ARE CERTAIN WITH CITY PLANT

Here are the reasons why a municipal plant in Jacksonville can and will reduce rates far below any rates the private company now offers or promises:

1—The government grant of $189,000 reduces the capital investment and therefore the capital charges—interest and principal payments—just that much below what any private company carries.

2—The government loan of $231,000 will draw only 4 percent interest whereas the private company is allowed to earn 8 percent and often earns much more even on inflated values.

3—The municipal plant will not inflate, "write up" or "water" its capital account. The private companies have inflated their investments by the hundreds of millions, as revealed by their own books and testimony in the hearings of the Federal Trade Commission.

From 1924 to 1926 according to the findings of the Federal Trade Commission the properties of the Illinois Power & Light Corporation were "written up" or inflated by the amount of $26,354,179.81.

On all these fictitious accounts the consumers must pay rates that enable the companies to earn their 6 to 8 percent on the inflated values. A municipal plant has no watered stock, no "write ups," no inflation. It therefore can reduce rates below any possible reduction which will be voluntarily made by a private company.

4—A municipal plant does not have to pay tribute to holding companies. The Illinois Power & Light Corporation, as shown by the Federal Trade Commission reports, paid fees to one holding company from 1924 to 1929 inclusive amounting in all to $3,601,783.00 for supervisor services. The consumers of electricity in Jacksonville must of course pay their share of such charges and they pay in the rates. Hence the rates are high.

5—A municipal plant does not have to pay salaries of $50,000 to $500,000 a year as are often paid in the private utilities; it does not have to pay huge attorney fees, advertising fees and excessive contributions to political campaign funds, etc.

COMPETITION REDUCES RATES

Monopolies create and maintain high prices to the consumer. With the construction and operation of the municipal light plant the local private utility will have a competitor for the first time in the local field. Competition always reduces rates. Not only does competition reduce rates but it insures to our city efficient, courteous and reliable operation of the proposed plant.

Eliminating all these enormous overcharges which have no proper connection with the production and distribution of electric power, which a private company carries, taking advantage of the government grant and the low rate of interest on the government loan, and helped by the competition which will ensue it is easy to see why the municipal plant can and will reduce rates far below any the PRIVATE COMPANY NOW OFFERS OR PROMISES.

CONSULTING AND GOVERNMENT ENGINEERS AGREE

The certainty of reduced rates is still further shown by the engineers studies. The city's consulting engineers have carefully surveyed this matter and find that such reductions as we have mentioned can be made.

THE GOVERNMENT REQUIRES LOWER RATES

Furthermore before the government would make the grant and loan it was necessary to satisfy the government engineers and accountants that the available income of the municipal plant would be sufficient not only to cover the operating expenses, meet the interest charges and retire the loan, but also would insure substantial rate reductions to the public.

In other words the government engineers and accountants have found the estimates of the city's consulting engineers correct, have approved the project and the government has backed its approval with a $420,000 loan and grant.

The final and conclusive evidence that these reductions of electric rates can and will be made lies in the fact that literally hundreds of cities all over the country and many right here in Illinois have established municipal plants, successfully operated them and have reduced rates and otherwise benefitted their respective communities.

DEATH OF A CITY DWELLER
By Helen Welshimer
O H, all his life he hungered for
Some land for gardening.
Where he could watch green, growing shoots
Push through the soil with spring.
He talked about a sprawling house,
Not very big, some ground
Where he could have an orchard, trees,
And poultry, dogs around.
THERE'LL be no dearth of tenants, God.
To claim Your mansions' charms;
I know he'd rather have his choice
Among the little farms.

Hogan Catches Fire
Near Winchester
A 1931 Oakland coupe belonging to Joseph Hogan, residing six miles northwest of Winchester, was ruined by fire Thursday afternoon.
Mr. Hogan left the car in front of his home while he went to dinner.
About 30 minutes later it was discovered in flames. Mr. and Mrs.
Hogan succeeded in putting out the blaze but not until the car was badly damaged.
A report spread throughout the neighborhood that Mr. Hogan had been burned by flaming gasoline, but this was not true as he escaped injury.

WINDSHIELD PROVES
TOO MUCH FOR OWL
Encounter Kills Bird, But Car Occupants Escape
Three Jacksonville young men, returning from Springfield late one evening this week, were much alarmed when something struck the windshield of their car with terrific force.
The glass was not broken, but the occupants of the car thought they had encountered a meteorite.
They stopped the machine and went back to see what had happened. They found a screech owl at the roadside.
The bird was as dead as the proverbial mackerel, and showed that it had struck something with a force not quite irresistible, but sufficient.
As the owl and the car were both traveling fast, the encounter was decisive—at least for the owl. As the hour was late, they are wondering if their car could not now be rightly designated the "owl car."

Reduced Electric Rates Effective Here February 1st

Power and Light Company
Lowers Power Charges
For 16 Towns

Chicago.—(AP)—Reduced electrical rates to domestic consumers in 16 Illinois cities served by the Illinois Power & Light Corporation were announced yesterday by the Illinois Commerce Commission.

These reductions, effective Feb. 1 or April 1, have not yet had the commission's formal approval, but Harry B. Booth, commission attorney in charge of rate reductions, said "undoubtedly they will go into effect on the specified dates."

The company, Booth said, also had withdrawn its petition asking permission to raise rates to cover the 3 percent utility sales tax, and would absorb this tax itself. Reductions were made possible through increased use of electricity, Booth said.

The cities affected and the rates:

City	Old Rate	New Rate
Decatur	5.7	5.2
Bloomington	5.7	5.4
Champaign-Urbana	5.7	5.4
Jacksonville	6.7	6.2
Centralia	7.2	6.9
Mt. Vernon	7.2	6.9
Chester	7.2	6.9
Carlinville	8.25	7.9
Clinton	7.7	6.9
Gillespie	8.25	7.9
Greenville	7.7	7.2
Hillsboro	7.7	7.2
Litchfield	7.7	7.2
Spring Valley	8.25	7.9
Westville	6.25	7.9

(All rates are per kilowatt hour in the first block.)

*Effective date April 1; in all others Feb. 1.

John R. Hoffman, manager of the local branch, said yesterday that it was advertised here a week ago that a rate reduction to 6.2 per kilowatt hour from the present rate of 6.7 would be made February 1. Consumers have been notified both through newspaper advertising and special letters.

Also business visitors here yesterday included Miss Alene Northrup.

The End of Blue Eagle and NRA

A Negro janitor scrapes the Blue Eagle poster from the door of a room in the Commerce Building at Washington, D. C., where the National Recovery Administration held forth during its turbulent life, to bring down the curtain on NRA as the old year neared its end. This marked the last official appearance of the Blue Eagle, which was rendered impotent by Supreme Court decision last summer.

FACTS ABOUT THE $420,000.00 INDUSTRY IN JACKSONVILLE

The Jacksonville Taxpayers and Citizens League is an organization of Jacksonville taxpayers and citizens who are opposed to the proposal to assume a $420,000.00 indebtedness for the purpose of entering into the Municipal Light and Power business. This League now has a membership of over 500.

The League's officers and membership believe that the proposed Bond Issue is unwise and unsound, and this organization proposes to analyze statements made by the proponents of the Municipal Light and Power Plant project, and to present facts so that voters may act intelligently on January 21st.

A recent advertisement attempts to lead the voters to believe that $420,000.00 is about to be spent in Jacksonville in order to bring to the City an entirely new enterprise. It states, among other things, that $189,000.00 will be an outright "gift," and that it "means that Jacksonville's money stays in Jacksonville."

THE "NEW ENTERPRISE"

If the voters approve the proposition to go into debt in the amount of $420,000.00, it is proposed to construct a City owned Light and Power Plant. This Plant would be in direct competition with the present system and a duplication of power facilities, which are capable of serving a city many times the size of Jacksonville.

Is another Plant a new enterprise? CERTAINLY NOT. The approval of this Bond Issue by the voters entails another heavy indebtedness added to that which we now have, and our streets and alleys will be cluttered with duplicate sets of poles, wires, cables, etc.

THE "GIFT"

The right of the Federal Government to make a "gift" or "grant" for the purpose of constructing municipal power plants in competition with legally existing private industry is now being tested in the United States Supreme Court. If this "gift" or "grant" law is held unconstitutional, and the voters approve this proposed $420,000.00 Bond Issue, or if, sometime after January 21st, the Government should, for reasons of its own, withdraw or recall the "gift" or "grant," then the taxpayers and citizens are obligated for an additional $189,000.00.

Even if a grant should by chance be had, it would be on the basis of the restrictive high cost conditions imposed by the Public Works Administration and that part of the obligation would, of course, also eventually find its way back to the people in the form of taxes or in the cost of everything that the public buys. Money does not grow on trees, and money spent by governing bodies comes from the people. Do not be misled into thinking that this proposed municipal light plant for which Jacksonville has no real need will not constitute a burden on the people of Jacksonville.

A SMALL AMOUNT OF MONEY STAYS IN JACKSONVILLE

This League has investigated facts and figures which are supplied by the Ordinance and other available data. The following amounts go to manufacturers' supply houses and engineers outside of Jacksonville, and in no manner will benefit Jacksonville business men:

Engineer's Fee (to outside engineer)	$ 21,000.00
Engines, Generators, Switchboard instruments, etc., to machinery manufacturers in far distant cities	168,000.00
Poles, Wire, Transformers, Meters, Insulators, Line Material, etc., to manufacturers in far distant cities	114,000.00
	<hr/> $303,000.00

Thus, three-fourths of the total expenditure of $420,000.00 will not benefit Jacksonville business men.

The remaining one-fourth will be spent for land, buildings, labor, LEGAL FEES, and a large portion of the labor required will be highly technical and must be imported.

If we MUST spend money, let us spend it for things we actually need.

We respectfully urge the voters to vote "NO."

JACKSONVILLE TAXPAYERS AND CITIZENS LEAGUE

F. J. WADDELL, Chairman.

LEE A. SULLIVAN, Secretary.

[This ad appears because a large group of Jacksonville citizens believe that Jacksonville should see more facts and hear less prejudiced political argument.]

J. H. S. Ranks As One Of Three Favorites

Rushville And Virginia Are Favored In Top Half Of Beardstown Tourney

Jacksonville high ranks as one of the three favorites to cop the Beardstown tournament title this year, provided they continue to follow their winning form. The other two favorites are Rushville and Virginia, who will have to fight it out in the upper half of the nine-team tournament which opens Wednesday with three games.

The Crimson Friday night defeated their first round opponent, Mt. Sterling, quite handily, and another victory over them would bring them up against the winner of the Beardstown-Ashland game, in the semi-finals. The Crimson already hold one decision over Beardstown, and conquered their Ashland jinx last year in the district tournament.

Rushville's strong team will meet Chanderville in the opening game of the tournament Wednesday night at seven o'clock, and Virginia and Industry will tangle in the second game. The Red-Heads dropped their second game thus far this year to Industry in a surprise defeat before the Christmas holidays, and hope to gain revenge during the tournament. Industry edged out Virginia by one point when the two teams met before. Ashland and Beardstown will meet in the final game of the Wednesday card.

Jacksonville high will make its start Thursday evening, with the winner of the Rushville-Chanderville game coming back for a game with Brown. Semi-finals will be played Friday and the finals and consolation game are slated for Saturday night. Gabhart of Springfield and W. H. Knapp, of White Hall, will be the officials.

Cub Winning Streak Looks Much Larger

Not Longest, But One of Best Finishes in Modern Baseball History

By FORD FRICK (Written for the Associated Press) New York—(AP)—Perspective is building up with each passing month to make that September 21-game winning streak of the Chicago Cubs stand out stronger, taller and brighter against the skyline of the 1935 sports calendar.

We are beginning to realize now that we saw unfolded a page of baseball history in the making. Twenty-one straight victories! From third place to the pennant! The Cubs' conquest of the National League's 1935 championship truly belongs in baseball's gallery of immortal exploits.

It wasn't the longest winning streak in baseball history. The New York Giants of 1916 won 26 in a row, the all-time major league record. Theirs was a September drive, too, but without a pennant as its climax.

As the background builds up around the 1935 season, the picture also suggests the pennant drive of the Boston Braves in 1914. Those Braves under George Stallings' command had no streak as long as 26 or 21, but they charged up the pennant hill all the way from last place.

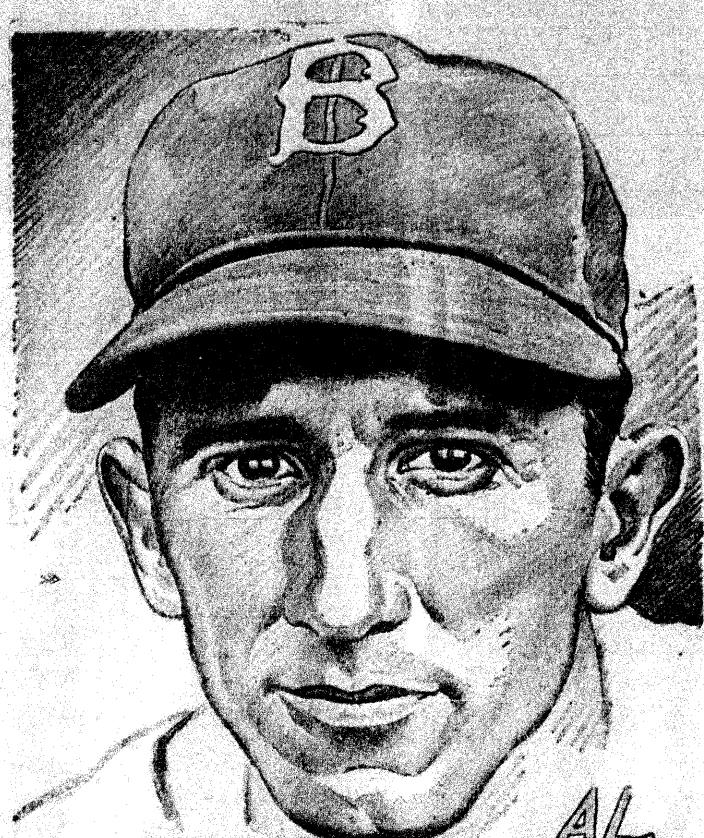

The Cubs in 1935 weren't dark horses nor did they win as many as 26 straight but to my mind they belong in that very select group with the Braves of 1914 and the Giants of 1916.

Until the Cubs launched their rampage, the St. Louis Cardinals gave every evidence of becoming the headlines of this annual review. In July and August the Cards launched a drive reminiscent of the one that carried them to the pennant and world championship in 1934. It took something of a history-making nature, such as the Chicago streak, to relegate the Redbirds to second place. There's a very bright spot in our second division, too—Cincinnati. The Reds won no pennant, but the "last to first" campaign launched by Fowler, Crosley, Jr., and Larry MacPhail made remarkable strides.

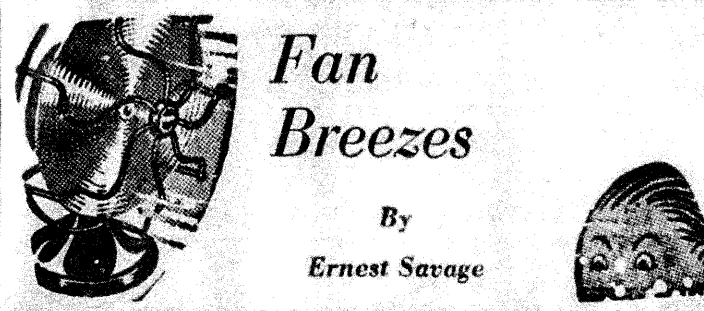

I think baseball, together with the country as a whole, will enjoy 1935 even more than 1935. All prospects point that way and for our league the year will stand out a bit more prominently from the fact that we celebrate our sixtieth birthday on February 2.

Miss Florence Prigger of Scottville was a shopper in the city yesterday afternoon.

Among the Saturday business visitors in the local community was Bryan Waterfield of Winchester.

AL LOPEZ, PERRY SPANISH CATCHER GIVES BRAVES FIRST HIGH-CLASS RECEIVER THEY'VE HAD IN NEARLY A DECADE. ALWAYS RATED AS ONE OF THE BEST IN LEAGUE WHILE WITH BROOKLYN, THIS BACKSTOP IS ALSO A FAIR INFILDER, HAVING BEEN USED BY CASEY STENGEL AT THIRD IN A FEW 1934 CONTESTS.

There has been a lot of hubbub about that basketball game between Northwestern and Notre Dame which the official scores agreed ended in a 20-19 victory for Northwestern, but which the gentlemen of the press declared to a man wound up in a 20 all tie.

John Glenn, former Beardstown high player, who is managing the Northwestern team this year, is one of the boys who insisted his team won. However, it seems that Northwestern is now ready to admit that the score should have been tied, but that Northwestern won the game because the officials said so. Lyle Clarno, more or less well known here, was one of the whistling brakemen on the game.

Warren Brown, Chicago Herald Examiner sports scribe, is opposed to having the game played over. His reason is that the scoring the next time "might go beyond 20 points, and if the young collegiate mathematicians who do the official scoring had so much trouble counting to twenty by ones and twos, well—"

Athletic Director LaRue Van Meter, of Illinois College, is getting to be another Will Rogers. "All I know about that game in Williamsburg is what I see in the papers," he says.

Reports were first circulated that

Around The Hot Stove League

By Eddie Brietz Associated Press Sports Writer New York, Jan. 4.—(AP)—Around the hot stove league: Getting ready for the arrival in Beantown of Jimmy Fox, Roger Cramer, Eric McNair, et al. the Blueboys would meet either Louisiana State or Southern California in Williamsburg. Then came a later report that the games had been called off. Van Meter said at no time has he seen any contracts, letters, or any other official documents indicating that a game was even being considered.

And Van Meter would dearly love to locate some games for his Blueboys. Thus far, there are only two games on the schedule for January. One is with Carthage there next Friday night, and the other is with Sparks Business college here Jan. 20. Van Meter hopes to get some revenge for the set-back administered at Shelbyville.

There are six conference games on the schedule for February. McKendree, Southern Teachers, Wesleyan and Carthage are due to play here, and Illinois will call upon Millikin and North Central.

Winchester, Alsey and Bluffs are being considered for the district tournament which will take in teams from this area, according to the dope we hear floating around.

R. L. McConnell, of Manchester, and Prof. Gellerman, of Blackburn college, will be the officials at the annual Greene County tournament.

Not only can Mike Ryba, the Cardinals' one-man ball team, play every position, but he can manage as well . . . In 1934 he served a spell as player-manager of the Springfield, Mo. team . . . Les Scarcella, Cincinnati's rookie first sacker, works in a dynamite factory during the off season.

Bill Atwood, the new Philly catcher, was a three letter man at Simmons University . . . It will suit Jimmy Wilson all right if he is a 300 man for the Phils.

Perhaps the most distinguished footballer among the 1936 rookies is Clarence Anderson of Montclair, N. J., who goes south with the Giants . . . He played three years at Colgate, was co-captain in his senior year and in his three years on the team, not an opposing player crossed the Colgate goal when he was in the game . . . In 1932, when the Raiders were unbeaten and untied, Anderson was in every game as an alternate halfback.

Frank O'Rourke is slated to manage the Wilkes-Barre club in the New York-Penn league . . . Schoolboy Rowe and Lon Warneke, world's series pitching rivals, went hunting together recently . . . Umpire Charlie Moran's heart may cause his retirement in a year or so . . . St. Louis had Phil Weintraub ticketed for Rochester, but Atlanta offered $6,000 for him and indicated it might go higher.

Gene Sarazen Leads Golfers

By J. P. McKnight. Associated Press Staff Writer.

Miami Springs, Fla., Jan. 4.—(AP)—Gene Sarazen, the man the rest of the field worries about in any golf tournament—no matter how far behind he be—was on top tonight after 36 holes of the $2,500 Miami Open.

Sarazen of Brookfield, Conn., back in the rack with 72 yesterday and starting raggedly today, found suddenly the magic touch that has won him every major link title and slizzed through back nine in 31. He came home with 66, four under par, to par at 138 for the first two rounds.

He was up there tonight, cocky and confident where short days ago he was wondering whether his good days were over. Odds-makers gave him better than an even chance of winning again the 12-year-old local classic he took four straight years, 1929 through 1932.

One stroke back, at 139, were yesterday's 18 hole leaders, stocky Jules Huot, Quebec, the Canadian P. G. A. champion, whose two rounds were 87 and 72, and the blond dapper Paul Runyan, White Plains, N. Y., who had 68 yesterday and 71 today.

Bunched at 140 were Willie Klein, Miami Beach, with 72 and 68, Frank Walsh, Chicago, 72 and 68, and Denny Shute, Chicago, 70 and 70.

The ever dangerous John Revolta, Milwaukee, P. G. A. titlist, was alone at 142 by virtue of two 71s. At 143 were George Smith, Chicago, 70 and 73; Willie McParland, Tuckahoe, N. Y., 70 and 73; Tommy Armour, Boca Raton, Fla., the 1935 winner, 73 and 70; and Henry Chui, Flushing, L. I., 73 and 70. Jim Moran, Aurora, Ill., withdrew.

Topping amateurs was Art Lynch, New York, who turned in 71 today after scoring 77 yesterday for 148. Al Anderaggen, New York, seized second place with 74 and 75 for 149.

An even 60 professionals qualified for the 36 hole final tomorrow. Two with scores better than 154, Mack Sennett, Greenfield, Mass., 150, and Ralph Hutchison, Bethlehem, Mass., 152, withdrew after the day's play. In the amateur flight top qualifying score was 155.

Russell Stonehouse, young Indianapolis star, had to quit with an injured back after scoring 73 yesterday.

A trio of middling notable amateurs was forced out—Charles Eberhardt, New York, Bruno Minkley, Buffalo, N. Y., last year's victor here, and 15 year old Johnny Armour, Boca Raton, Fla., Tommy Armour's adopted son. They finished, respectively, with 161, 162 and 169.

File driving work on the tees—"I was actually too strong," he remarked—and sharp, surefire putting marked Sarazen's great round which came within two strokes of the course record Wild Bill Mehlforn set here two years ago.

Lou Ambers Defeats Frankie Klick in Go

Will Be Awarded Chance at Canzoneri in Spring After Slow Bout

New York—(AP)—Lou Ambers of Herkimer, N. Y., was back again today, dogging the trail of Tony Canzoneri, lightweight king.

Ambers, whose jaw was broken in a fight with Fritz Zivic of Pittsburgh six months ago, stepped out of the Madison Square garden last night with a unanimous decision over veteran and ring-wary Frankie Klick of California.

Ambers, who weighed 134½ to 135½ for his opponent, landed Klick his first defeat in seven garden starts.

The 8,266 customers who paid $18.203 to see the fight at times stamped their feet for action as Ambers won eight of the ten rounds. He took some pretty stiff punches on his repaired chin in the sixth and seventh rounds, however, and showed there was nothing brittle about it.

James J. Johnston, garden matchmaker, announced that Ambers would battle Canzoneri early in the spring.

Louis Settles Down To Meet Retzlaff

Probably Will Weigh 203 in Next Fight; Picks Up Weight During Winter

Chicago—(AP)—Joe Louis settled down today to the task of earning his first million dollars.

The Detroit bomber began training for his 15 round bout with Charley Retzlaff at the Chicago stadium Jan. 17, the first of his 1936 campaign, which he expects to culminate in a heavyweight champion battle with James J. Braddock in New York next fall.

In less than 19 months, since he fought his first professional engagement in Chicago, Louis, just 21 and yet to have his first shave, has rolled up a bank roll of $371,000. He aims to earn the other $600,000 by the time the present year fades into history.

Gradually taking on weight in the absence of summer sunshine to take it off of him, the brown bomber figures to scale 203 pounds when he shuffles into the center of the ring against Retzlaff.

Jack Blackburn, trainer of the fisty marvel, says the added weight will make Louis a more dangerous fighter than he was in 1935.

Athletics Obtain Pitcher And Rookie Infielder and Undisclosed Sum in Cash

Philadelphia, Jan. 4.—(AP)—The Athletics tonight announced the trade of infielder Eric McNair and outfielder Doc Cramer to the Boston Red Sox in exchange for pitcher Henry Johnson, infielder Alfred Niemiec and an undisclosed sum in cash.

The deal is part two in the A's-Red Sox trading which began with the sale of first baseman Jimmy Foss and pitcher Johnny Marcum to Boston at the major league meetings last month. Cramer is regarded as one of the standout outer gardeners in the major leagues. He is 28 years old and has been with the A's since 1929 when he was signed as a free agent. He lives at Manahawkin, N. J.

McNair, a resident of Meridian, Miss., was the first-string shortstop and an infield sparkplug of the A's last year. He was purchased from Memphis, Tenn., in August, 1929.

Cramer batted .332 in 149 games last season, and has been a consistent .300 or better hitter for the last few years. McNair, apparently affected by the poor showing of the A's in 1935, turned in only a .270 average in 137 games of the season.

Cramer was discovered by Cy Perkins, now Micky Cochran's coach with the Detroit Tigers, while he was performing on New Jersey sand-lots. Connie Mack farmed him out to Martinsburg in the old Blue Ridge league in 1929, and he led that circuit with a .404 record.

McNair was purchased after he batted .391 for Knoxville in the South Atlantic League.

Johnson, the pitcher coming to the A's, is a right-hander. He formerly was with the New York Yankees for several seasons, and began twirling for Boston in 1933. He is a native of Bradenton, Fla. Last season he saw action in only 13 games, performed in but 31 innings, and had a record of two wins against one loss.

Niemiec, who also comes to the Athletics, was with the Syracuse International league chiefs for part of last season. He is a former infielder for the now non-existent Reading New York-Pennsylvania league club.

No announcement of the cash involved was made, but estimates are that between $300,000 and half-a-million was deposited in the A's treasury in the two deals—that involving Foss, and the one announced tonight.

With the announcement of this deal which had been reported for weeks, Connie Mack about completed the wrecking of his ball club. With Foss gone, the A's had lost the last star of their 1929-31 team, which won three American League pennants and two world's championships. Cramer and McNair were underdogs on that combination, and their departure leaves the A's with few prospects for the coming campaign.

On the other hand, the acquisition on the infielder and outfielder, as well as Foss, by the Red Sox, should provide owner Tom Yawkey and the Boston fans a team of pennant winning calibre for 1936.

released four players, Walter Goebel, Roy Decker, Ed Jabb and Bowler Lysen, to Portsmouth, O.

Goebel, a catcher who was with Los Angeles last season, and Lysen, right-handed pitcher from Peoria, Ill., were released outright. Jabb, an outfielder, and Decker, a right-hander, also with Peoria last season, were sent out on option.

St. Louis, Jan. 4.—(AP)—Thirty-four exhibition games, including four in Havana, Cuba, and 17 with major league opponents, were announced today as the St. Louis Cardinals' spring schedule.

Secretary Clarence Lloyd also said the team would go through a longer training period than in 1935. Pitchers and catchers will report at Bradenton, Fla., Feb. 23 and all other members of the squad Feb. 25.

The exhibition schedule will open with four Havana games, March 5, 6, 7 and 8, and will end with a two-game series with the Browns at St. Louis April 11 and 12.

Milton, Jan. 4.—Pulling away in the last half, after a nip and tuck battle through the first two periods, Pittsfield high added Milton to its list of victims here tonight by a 23 to 14 score. Milton scored only four points in the closing half when its players missed shot after shot.

Pittsfield preserved a shooting edge, raining missiles from all around the hoop to come through with a win. Milton trailed only one point at the end of the first quarter, and three points at the end of the half but slipped badly in the last two periods.

Jimmy Hines, Pro Blasts Favorites

By Robert Myers
Associated Press Sports Writer

Riverdale, Calif., Jan. 4.—(P)—Jimmy Hines, hefty young eastern pro, blasted the favorites into the background today in the Riverside $3,000 open with a sizzling 66, six under par.

Jumping into the lead in the second round of play, the Garden City, Long Islander finished 36 holes with 135. His 70 yesterday was two under par.

Three strokes to the rear was Orville White, of St. Louis, with 139. Byron Nelson, Ridgewood, N. J., in third place had 141.

John Geertsen Oden, Utah, added a 73 with a first round 65 for 142. Four erstwhile leaders, Ky. Laffoon, Chicago, Vic Ghezzi, Deal, N. J., Harold McSpaden, unattached, and Jimmy Thomson, Ridgewood, had to be content with 143s.

San Parks, Jr., national open king from Pittsburgh, continued his par performance, posting a 72-72-144, and tied with him in the bracket were Henry Picard, Hershey, Pa., and Johnny Dawson, Chicago amateur.

Sixty low scorers who shot 152 and under go into the 35-hole finals tomorrow over the Victoria club course.

Hines struck both nines in 33, picking up two birdies going out and four on the journey home. The fast, rolling greens treated him better than the rest, and he sank long putts, one for 20 feet. He missed a six-footer for a birdie on the third, however, and another at eight feet on the fifth.

Believe League Will Follow U.S. Lead in Applying Oil Slash Foreign Governments Watch Closely For Action of United States

(Copyright, 1936, By The Associated Press)

LONDON.—(AP)—The United States neutrality course attracted close European attention today, with a general belief growing that if the Roosevelt administration restricted exports of oil as a war material, the League of Nations would follow suit.

Interest in Washington's action, heightened by President Roosevelt's internationally broadcast message to the joint session of congress last night and introduction of new neutrality measures, was increased further by a sense of a rapidly returning European crisis.

Great Britain, a League leader, informed sources said, would be influenced by the American attitude in determining its own stand on the controversial question.

Mrs. Roosevelt's message caused a sensation in French quarters where it was criticized by some as possibly increasing, instead of hindering, European war preparations.

His declarations were regarded by informed circles as heightening America's isolation from Europe, with a likelihood that his policy would result in other nations developing their own resources in peace-time to a standard of self-sufficiency for war time.

In Rome, where reliable sources had said denial to Italy of the oil supplies much needed by its mechanized armies might spread the East African warfare to Europe, the "elasticity" of the Roosevelt neutrality policy was regarded by some as its most hopeful feature.

Peacock testified her husband received a telephone call at 10:15 p. m. Thursday night, just as they were preparing to retire and after a brief conversation changed from pajamas to street attire. Then he departed, apparently to answer a call for professional aid. She guessed it was from a new patient, Mrs. Peacock said, because she heard her husband state his charge was $5 and that his regular patients did not usually inquire about that. Earlier, Mrs. Peacock said she learned, her husband had been called by a woman but the last call apparently was from a man.

Twenty-one hours later the physician's body was found in his blood spattered car near 6309 North Francisco avenue.

An assistant state's attorney ended the inquest by saying: "I do not believe it is necessary to question Mrs. Peacock further" when she hesitated after being asked this question by the deputy coroner.

"Did your husband ever have arguments with anyone or did he have any enemies that you knew of?"

With All My Love

BEGIN HERE TODAY
Against the wishes of her grandmother, aristocratic Mrs. WILLIAM CAMERON, DANA WESTBROOK marries DR. SCOTT STANLEY, struggling young physician.

Before her marriage, RONALD MOORE had been in love with her. NANCY, Dana's mother, loves Ronald, but hides her feelings behind a disdainful attitude. PAUL, LONN's information for Scott finally arouses Dana's jealousy. After a misunderstanding, Dana returns to her grandmother's home. Mrs. Cameron uses her influence to make the separation permanent, and the break between the young couple widens. Ronnie is a comforting friend, but Dana remains unhappy. Finally, believing Scott loves Paula, Dana decides to divorce him.

Ronnie, a sportsman abroad, hoping Dana will realize she loves him. When he returns, he goes to a house party. Dana indifference niggles Ronnie and he drives to town. He meets Nancy on the street and takes her to see his home. Her enthusiasm pleases him and he finds himself interested and intrigued.

CHAPTER XL

CYRIL LANCASTER said to Dana, "Now I know why America and England went to war once. That good-looking chap was positively savage. Acted as though he had a personal grudge against me for some reason. Queer, wasn't it?"

It was after the episode on the lake when the boat he and Dana were in so narrowly avoided collision with Scott's boat.

Scott had acted like a savage. During the next two months Dana thought about it often. It was queer, because Scott really wasn't like that. He was reasonable and understanding. But Cyril Lancaster's description had been justified. Rage had been written all over Scott's face. For a moment Dana had thought that Scott was surely going to start something. Then, all at once, the angry expression and Scott's tone had been clipped and controlled. He said, "Sorry. Forget it. The fog's lifting now. I don't suppose you'll have any more trouble."

That glimpse of Scott had been devastating. Dana's carefully built theory that you could build happiness with the materials at hand toppled. She faced the knowledge now that she was miserable, and that marriage to Ronnie would not make her less so.

Yet there were other things to consider beside personal happiness. There was the futility of loving a man who loved someone else and who was definitely out of your life. There was the happiness Dana knew she could bring to two old people and Nancy, who had always had the hard end.

"Well, at least I won't let Ronnie propose while I'm feeling this way. It wouldn't be fair," Dana decided.

There are little discouraging tricks that every girl knows. Dana employed them. Ronnie didn't seem discouraged, though at times Dana knew he was puzzled by her attitude.

They were rushing from one party to another. Usually they doubled-dated with some other couple. Ronnie couldn't quite figure out Dana's sudden enthusiasm for crowds. He was sure, though, that it wouldn't be long before Dana would tire of chasing pleasure and thrill through her.

"Come in, Scott," Dana said. His deep voice answered, not bantering, but quiet and controlled. "How are you, Dana?"

He turned professionally toward the bed, where old Mrs. Cameron glared at him from her pillow. After a moment, her eyes shifted to Dana. Something in the girl's expression was arresting.

Mrs. Cameron moistened her dry lips, took a deep breath and said, "I suppose you never expected me to be a patient, Scott?"

"It gives me real pleasure," Scott said lightly. "I've brought my biggest, bitterest pills."

Dana, amazed, heard her grandmother chuckle sardonically. "You wouldn't! Weakness had softened her a little. She said, 'I remember you were always one of the worst little boys in town. I haven't forgotten the green apples you and those wretched Wilkerson boys used to get from that big tree in my orchard.'"

"The branches hung over the wall," Scott said, smiling a little. "Walls never made any difference to you," Mrs. Cameron said grimly.

W. H. Cobb, 23 Years Superintendent Water Department, Dies Here

W. H. Cobb, for more than 23 years city water superintendent here, and one of the city's best known citizens, passed away Saturday afternoon, at five o'clock, at Passavant hospital. Mr. Cobb had been a patient at the hospital for about one month.

During his residence of more than sixty years in Jacksonville Mr. Cobb made hundreds of friends, who will learn with regret of his death. His residence here as a citizen and public official gained for him esteem that was of the highest. At the time he retired as city water superintendent he had established a record as the oldest continuous servant of the city.

Hunters Use Motor Equipment To Hunt Foxes East Of Here

Four Animals Fall Before Guns Of Farmers In Chase Recently

Fox hunting deluge might be termed the sport as applied to the search for sly Reynard by farmers east of the city. Using motorized vehicles a group of farmers headed by Carl Anderson recently bagged four of the animals, and so entertaining was the hunt that plans are being made to take to the field again soon.

It is only a question of "jumping them up" said Mr. Anderson, who was in the city Saturday. "Once we get them started they are easily our prey," he said. "Thus we have a hunt that is entertaining as well as successful."

From reports thruout past months the foxes seem to be on the increase. Some farmers blame the scarcity of quail and rabbits on the increasing number of the animals, and the Orleans community has been no exception where it is reported the foxes have been unusually plentiful.

The farm land in the vicinity of the Anderson home is particularly level, but this has not prevented the foxes from making their dens in that vicinity. However, these dens have been very cleverly hidden, thus making the bagging of the animals difficult.

With the coming of the snow recently the farmers noted tracks of the animals and a small group decided that the time was ripe to attempt to capture a few of the animals. On this hunt, however, auto trucks were added to the usual equipment used by the fox hunters and the animals were easily outwitted.

It is only a question of "jumping them up" say the hunters. Once they are out in the open they are doomed. The hunters start the foxes in one direction and then thru the use of the trucks head them off and open fire. Mr. Anderson accounted for three animals himself, stating that the animals are apparently so bewildered or so unafraid of the trucks that the hunters approach them with ease, the foxes coming in to the range of guns at a rather slow gait.

With four of the foxes in the Orleans community accounted for, motorized hunters are abiding their time when they again take to the field.

Where Russia Speeds New Railroads Eastward

Double-tracking of the Trans-Siberian railroad has been completed by Russian convict labor between Irkutsk and Khabarov, affording better transport for soldiers in case of war with Japan. Plans also go forward for a northern branch from west of Lake Baikal to the Amur river, because the present line has many vulnerable tunnels near the border around Lake Baikal. Eastern terminal of the new line might be Nikolaevsk or Komsomolsk, boom cities being pushed to replace abandoned Vladivostok. A connecting line would run up the Amur. Meanwhile the Japanese-Manchukuoan advance into Chahar (arrow) aims to cut overland communication between China and Outer Mongolia, which is under Soviet influence, and into which Soviet railway lines are also projected.

Barrow Woman Is Found Dead In Well Late Saturday Night

White Hall, Ill., Jan. 4.—(Special)—Mrs. Ralph Bushnell, 40, wife of a well known farmer residing near Barrow, in the northwest part of Greene county, was found dead in a well near an empty house, three quarters of a mile from her home tonight, by two neighbors who had been searching for the missing woman for several hours.

Mrs. Bushnell, who had been in ill health for several months, lighted a lantern and left her home about 7:30 o'clock Saturday night. Shortly afterward her husband walked to the porch and saw the lantern on the step. Mr. Bushnell thought his wife was about the yard, but after a search had failed to locate her he summoned neighbors.

After searching all the buildings and wells on the Bushnell farm, the farmers started in different directions looking for Mrs. Bushnell.

About 11 o'clock, Harold Marsh and Henry Day, who had started in an easterly direction reached an empty house on a farm three quarters of a mile from the Bushnell home. After searching the various buildings the two men noticed the boards on the well had been removed. Throwing a flashlight into the well the men saw the woman's body floating on the water.

The men sent for assistance and a rope was lowered into the well and fastened about the dead woman's body.

Undertaker Frank Dawdy, of this city, who had been called, assisted in removing the body from the well.

The remains were removed to the Dawdy Funeral Home in this city and Coroner J. Russell Shields, of Greenfield, was notified. The coroner will hold an inquest at the funeral home this morning at 10 o'clock.

Mrs. Bushnell was the daughter of Edward Steelman, of Barrow, and was well and favorably known. Besides her husband, two small sons and her father, she is survived by a brother and sister.

Funeral arrangements have not been completed.
